BD Angel 2017
Wally Sosa (c) 2017

Materials:

1 Shuttle and Ball
Thread #10 (2 colors optional)
Wings Charm

Tie both threads leaving a tail of 3-4 inches. To effect of the pattern the white thread is color A and the red thread is color B. With color A make a loom holding the thread from your index, above your finger , behind the pinky and end on your index.

With color B start a normal double stitch on the lower thread. This one will look like is on the wrong side but it will show correctly when the next stitch is done.

On the upper thread make a reverse double stitch. It means that you will start with the second half of the ds and then make the first half of the ds.

As with the cluny leaf this complete a wrap. The second wrap starts making a normal ds on the lower thread and then making another reverse ds on the upper thread.

Make 15 wraps, keeping a triangular shape. As you continue doing the wraps you will notice that you will have the "bar" of the ds showing on the front of the work and you will have 15 ds in each side. Finish with the ds on the upper thread of the loom.

Push back snugly all the ds on the upper thread and using the shuttle with color B make a normal ds with color A. This will lock the stitch in place so be sure to adjust the "wraps" on the upper thread before making this stitch.

Depending on how wide is your triangle (color B), you're going to make a chain of 2 - 2. On this sample my chain was of 8 picots separated by 2 ds.

The chain should curve nicely above the wraps. When finished with the chain, pull the color A thread from the bottom and adjust it carefully so both sides are the same size.

You can cut shuttle with color B, leaving a tail long enough (about 4-5 inches) to hide it later. Using a crochet hook pass through the wings charm the tails at the beginning of the work and a loop from color A.

Using this loop you're going to form a circle around your hand and doubling the thread you will work a Looped Ring (same concept as SSSR). Tat 6 ds hiding both tails. Pull hard those tails and cut.

Make a long picot (1 inch tall) and 2 ds.

Fold the long picot and join. this will create a double picot. Make 6 more ds. Adjust the double picot to your like.

Close the ring by pulling one of the sides of the doubled thread. When you pull on one side it will pull the thread from the ball or close the ring. Be sure to close it tightly. The loop that will remain at the bottom of the ring need to be moved (front to the back of the head). Then pull the thread coming from the ball to close the loop. Make it tight. and cut close to the base of the ring.

Hide the color B tail along the side using your favorite method and cut to finish your angel.

Karen Cabrera has 2 videos working this method. I have change the working order of the stitches so have this in mind when watching the video. The lower thread I work a normal sequence of the ds and the upper thread I work the reverse sequence of the ds.
